

Academic Letter of Recommendation

To Whom It May Concern,

Date: 18/08/2021

As the Head of Statistics Department at Ramanujan College, Delhi University, New Delhi, It's my great pleasure to recommend Mr. Devesh Prasad for admission to your prestigious university. Devesh took my class Survey Sampling and Indian Official Statistics(Semester-3) and Survey Sampling(Semester-4). His unique qualities that motivate me in writing this letter are his time supervision and learning mindset with the execution of ideas maturely.

He utilized the golden opportunity pandemic created in discovering his field of interest. His transcripts show consistent improvement and hard work. He has a keen interest in Data Analytics and Visualization and knows various tools such as Tableau, R, & SPSS presented concisely in his unique projects. His curiosity helped him explore new domains such as application development. He combines his inquisitive mind with his interpretation and learning abilities and believes in executing ideas, making him a good researcher. He has demonstrated himself capable of challenging projects on an academic and individual level.

Devesh is an active member of Encephal- The Statistics Society of Ramanujan College and regularly helps the department organize competitions and represented the department on Sports Day as a tug of war participant. His confidence and positive approach with calmness have enabled him comfortably share ideas with faculty members and students. His ninety percent plus attendance during offline classes before the pandemic presents his punctuality and solemnity towards the academic curriculum. He went well beyond the course requirements in projects regarding Data Science, Web Applications, with a lot of research and self-learning, showing the characteristics of a potential candidate for Scholarship and Research, Teaching Assistantships.

In addition to his academic excellence, His unique qualities can be seen through his internship with a startup StartupHill, Co-founded by Alumni of the department where Devesh worked as an unpaid intern managing their website as a part of their technical team. His internships LOR highlights his extraordinary grasping abilities and excellent communication skills. He knows how to manage time wisely and eliminate distractions by utilizing his free time for non-profit organizations.

In the end, I would like to summarize Devesh as a promising student who is goal-oriented. He will enhance his grasp of the area and acquire valuable practical experience with your most prestigious program. Therefore, I strongly recommend Devesh for admission and would appreciate your most favorite considerations for his applications.
